

OPERATION Welcome HOME

Attention Vietnam Veterans... and ALL who serve:

(and those who love and support them)
Indiana is the place to be July 2-6, 2008

"A chance to say thank you, rewrite history, and embrace all those who serve."

The communities of Auburn and Fort Wayne, and the entire region, will open their hearts to the men and women who served America during difficult times — and never knew the joy of a triumphant homecoming!

How do I make reservations?

Our website features a variety of participating hotels, motels and other hospitality facilities.

What will be happening?

Many items are tentative and many more will be added!
A 'Welcome Home' parade, USO show, the travelling (Vietnam) wall, memorial services, Air Force Band of Flight performance, fireworks, reunions, displays and activities, merchandise, re-enactors...and the warmth and good wishes of a region, a state, and a nation!

What else is there to do?

Northern Indiana is home to wonderful museums, exciting dining establishments, and a wealth of transportation history, among many other activities. Our web site offers a variety of links to help you explore the region!

How can I find out who will be there?

If you plan to attend Operation Welcome Home or you want to track down others who are attending, go to www.Glzone.net and post your information on the Operation Welcome Home bulletin board.

Who does the celebration honor?

Originally, Operation Welcome Home was a tribute to our Vietnam Veterans who were denied their parade by the politics and rancor of the 1960s and 70s. The celebration still emphasizes thanking and honoring these brave men and women — but it also pays tribute to ALL who serve, especially those who did not get a proper welcome home.
